Ceremonial Launch of Website Complete Bibliography of Tagore's works in different languages

I am happy to note that the Raja Rammohun Roy Library Foundation (RRRLF) of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India is finally launching a web-bibliography of Rabindranath Tagore. I know that it has been an arduous task to collate such a bibliography which is as comprehensive as possible.

I congratulate Shri K.K. Banerjee, Director, the many experts who have assisted him, as also the team of RRRLF for the work that has gone into making the portal useful to readers and scholars of Tagore. This is, indeed, the most comprehensive bibliography of any Indian author and it is comparable to the best work that has been produced in other countries of the world.

This is the beginning of a lengthy and very meaningful process to move forward with more and more additions in future.
